

Hello All!

May is here and we are celebrating this month with music from Mr. Gabe, faculty of our neighborhood music school, Notes n' Beats (www.notesnbeats.com), in Ashburn.

You are welcome to take PRIVATE lessons with Notes n' Beats music school after school hours either on our own premises or at their studio in Ashburn. Send email to info@notesnbeats.com for private lessons, you can also get a chance to participate in their recitals.

Here are some musical activities that your children are engaged in, during their music class.

5 Little Ducks:

Over the course of a week, the ducks go off on a daily adventure with one less returning home each day. On Saturday, they respond to Papa Duck's call, so they can have a day of rest on Sunday, as decided by Mama Duck. Your kids are going to have great fun learning this song

"John Jacob Jingleheimer Schmidt":

John Jacob Jingleheimer Schmidt is a traditional children's song. The song explains that the singer shares the same name as the titular character, and people always recognize them when they go out. The song is typically repeated several times; sometimes each repetition may get louder or softer.

If you're Happy and you know it:

Back by popular demand, this song continues to be a hit with children and adults alike !

Sing-Along: As always, we offer the option to Sing alongside Mr. Gabe as he plays the guitar while you attempt your favorite melody. Here's a heads up – Mr. Gabe is excellent at playing the Guitar so go on a list out your favorite songs for him to play at these fun sessions.
